

LARGE BUILDING TO BE ERECTED

J. E. Jennings and Dr. Union Worthington to Build on West Temple.

Still another big building project was announced yesterday, following the purchase by James E. Jennings, president of the Breeden Office Supply company, and Dr. Union Worthington, from the Thompson estate, of a piece of property 65x166 feet adjoining Mr. Jennings' property in West Temple street, between First and Second South streets. The Jennings ground has a 34-foot frontage on West Temple street, to the north of the property of Louis Adolph Simon, of the Paris Millinery company.

Mr. Jennings and Dr. Worthington intend to erect a five-story building, which will cost about $150,000. With the purchase from the Thompson estate and the Jennings property they have a total frontage of 80 feet on West Temple street. The new building will cover the entire West Temple frontage. In architectural design it will harmonize with the Paris structure, now under construction.

The building will be an important addition to the West Temple street improvements now under way or being arranged for.

Mr. Jennings said last night that he had not yet decided the material to be used in the construction of the building. He has already received offers from persons who wish to lease the building and his plans will in the end be made to conform with the wishes of the tenant who secures the property.

"On the ground floor," said Mr. Jennings, "there will be stores. That much has been determined upon. What will be done with the upper floors depends upon the tenant, as the lease will doubtless be made before the work of construction begins. I now have several propositions under consideration. The building may be arranged for the accommodation of wholesale houses and it may be arranged so that the upper floors may be used as a hotel."

CITY SHIVERS LATE IN JUNE
Weather Continues Disagreeably Unseasonable During Summer Solstice—Fair Today.

Yesterday was the last day of the beginning of summer. Summer had two days to begin in, because it took the sun two days, unless one measured with extraordinary accuracy and astronomical precision, to get to the point of the solstice. Happily the sun is now over its pain and the anxiety of the northern hemisphere is relieved. The people who dwell around the borders of the tropic of Cancer can now begin to figure when they will get theirs.

Of a right the sun ought to have shone with more brilliancy yesterday, especially as it was the last day of the U. C. T. convention, an event memory will recall to the minds of many in years to come. But the sun was backward in performing, probably being intent upon finding a lead for its northward passage.

The best the weather could do was 63 for hot and the worst he did was 45 for cold. He sent down a bit of precipitation to help the unseasonableness of the weather along, and he said that it would be cool at last night and fair today. It was cool last night, but scarcely cooler, the thermometer registering at midnight a temperature of the street cars arriving at and leaving the corner of Main and Second South streets indicated at midnight a register of 51 degrees. An upper Main street barometer showed an elevation of the contents within itself by rising last night to 30.1 inches, and today it was 30.2 inches. The meteorological record for the day shows:

Temperature at 6 a. m., 61; maximum, 63; minimum, 45; mean, 54, which is 16 degrees below normal. Total deficiency of temperature for the day, 116 degrees; accumulated deficiency of temperature since Jan. 1, 150 degrees. Total precipitation for the first time in many days, which is 1.23 inches above normal; accumulated excess since Jan. 1, 2.31 inches. Relative humidity at 6 p. m., 26 per cent.

IN POLICE CIRCLES.
Elmer Stewart, arrested on the charge of resisting James White, a special deputy sheriff, on a Salt Lake train last week, was fined $50 by Justice F. M. Bishop yesterday. A. Sumpter, thought to have been an accomplice of Koon, in the alleged robbery, was discharged, as the evidence did not connect him with the crime.

Alex. Matthews, a negro arrested by Patrolman Seeger on the charge of breaking into the pool room of Tsui, a Japanese, at 54 Olive street, was held to the district court in $500 bail by Justice Bishop yesterday. The charge against him is second degree burglary. The officers say that Matthews was standing outside at a watchman for two negro burglars, who escaped arrest.

George Coons, charged with the robbery of Michael Manning in the rear of a Commercial street saloon, was held to the district court for trial by Justice Dana T. Smith yesterday. A Sumpter, thought to have been an accomplice of Koon, in the alleged robbery, was discharged, as the evidence did not connect him with the crime.

The police yesterday received notification from the Portland office of the arrest of Oliver J. Smith, formerly of Salt Lake, on the charge of passing a forged check on the secretary of the Elks' club in that city. Smith, it was understood, represented that he was an Elk, and in that way was able to pass the forged checks. When in Salt Lake Smith was tried on an embezzlement charge, but the complaint against him was dismissed before the case went to a jury and he was discharged.

NEW RATING BOOKS ISSUED.
In Most Cases Fire Insurance Rates Are Reduced, 'Tis Said.

New rating books were issued yesterday to the insurance agents of the city by the Utah branch of the Pacific board of fire insurance underwriters. It is said that in most cases Salt Lake holders of fire insurance policies have had their rates reduced. But there are some cases where no reductions have been made and some in which the rates have been increased.

DEMOCRATS SAY HARSH THINGS ABOUT NEWS

cles and leading churchmen in politics. These high churchmen continually assert that they engage in politics and express their political views as mere citizens and as other men do, without any claim to divine guidance therein, and it would seem to be clear that there is no man or set of men in the church or out of it who can engage in politics and not expect to meet with such opposition as their political enemies can bring to bear, and yet when these gentlemen are handled as other men, a singular complaint is made.

I believe that the people should be educated so as to clearly distinguish between the politician and the churchman when embodied in the same individual. I believe many fail to do so and hence the alarm when the so-called non-partisan church organ speaks in such an unexpected and apparently unwarranted manner.

More Freedom, Better Understanding
I believe that if we were absolutely free in the expression of our views and thoughts our political enemies, even though they be high churchmen, the same as we would fight any other politician, there would be less misunderstanding at home and abroad.

The Deseret News does not understand the actual state of mind of the Democrats or of the people more generally. I think that a mistake was made in not adopting my resolution or a similar one at our last convention. The editorial in the News is strong confirmation of it, for if the delegates to the convention had expressed their actual convictions and opinions on high churchmen in politics and the use of church periodicals in politics the Deseret News would have had greater respect for the views of our Democrats.

An editorial of that kind in the Deseret News carries much more weight with a great many of our people than a similar editorial in any other paper could carry, and for that reason it should be more guarded in expressing opinions on political matters, if for no other reason than that of deference for the feelings of the Democrats of the state, who are nearly all members of its church and its supporters.

The purpose of the editorial is evidently to insure the state to the Republican party. Our Democrats have been wooed out, however, to such an extent that only the stalwarts remain, and I am in hopes that it will not have as strong an effect as the News intended.

I do not question the propriety of the Deseret News speaking on all questions. It is a great paper, but its readers should be better advised of the fact that those who control its policy are Republicans and prone to view things through very highly colored Republican glasses.

A Republican Organ.
L. R. Martineau—If I understand the English language, the editorial means that the News is for Taft and against Bryan. If it is for Taft, it cannot be neutral on other officers, but must be for the Republicans. This attitude of the News is as a Republican organ in this state.

The effect of the editorial will be to minimize the influence of the church in the coming campaign. The paper cannot be the organ of the church and the organ of the Republican party at the same time. Politically it is for the Democrats and the organ of the church to the Denver convention and in the coming campaign influence a large number of voters in this state in favor of the Republican ticket.

Unfair of the News.
William M. Roylance, Provo—I am very much surprised that the Deseret News, by using it as an independent paper, would carry such an editorial, because in my opinion it pledges itself for Taft, president, against Bryan, vice president. I think it unfair in the News if it intends to allow its readers to vote as they please, without instruction or suggestion from it. But of course it intends to be partisan as the editorial would indicate. I have no criticism to make. But the people should know this, so that they can govern themselves accordingly. If the Democrats have to go against this kind of influence in the coming campaign, they have no chance for success are very poor. The people should be left to choose between candidates without suggestion or interference from the News.

Mr. Taylor's Idea.
Thomas N. Taylor, Provo—The general tone of the article would indicate that the News is a partisan paper. Whether it is wise for this paper to take such a stand is a question. I am frank to admit that from my point of view the News is in the interest of the church by leaving the politicians to fight their own battles on the one side or the other.

Not Unexpected.
Moses Thatcher, Logan—Having read the article referred to by the Herald, I beg to say that I am not at all amazed that the Herald or even any intelligent paper, would carry such an editorial, as it is published in the News. It is evident that it has evidently long since directly or indirectly supported as its own. In my view such an attitude is hardly an executive of the News. The Herald alludes cannot possibly contain much of harm for the Democratic party, for an open declaration is always made that it is a partisan paper.

Reads Like "Fussy Jimmy."
Samuel A. King—Every person familiar with the situation in Utah knows well the purpose and a portion of the effect of this remarkable effusion, but a large portion of the good people of Utah are ignorant of the final results of this and other similar alleged editorials until this fair state is plunged into the throes of political and religious strife such as prevailed from 1875 until 1890.

The statement referred to is not an editorial, but a mere article in the News. It is a political gush. It reads more like an editorial from "Fussy Jimmy." An person familiar with the News, and knowing the man who possesses in "fawning" would almost be persuaded that it was hardly an executive of the News and convincing him that this was a "divinely inspired article," and therefore Brother Taft should know at once that the News is a partisan paper and that the good brethren should be properly advised in this intermountain region. I feel like saying, "Oh, Lord, how long is this thing to continue to last? To think that this state should be forever in turmoil and contention by reason of the political and religious stupidity of some newspaper editor who can see local success for the G. O. P. only by constantly and maliciously insinuating the idea that the Mormon church, its authorities and its official organ are in league with the party of "buff and buster" and that its success depends upon the support of the Mormon people, is outrageous in the extreme.

Some Details of History.
For forty years Utah struggled for statehood. That its people might enjoy their civil and political rights, for practically thirty years of this time the great Republican party was in power, and throughout that time not a solitary act of legislation was passed by an executive order emanated from this wonderful party but that was antagonistic to the Mormon people and opposed to their purposes. The first decent recognition ever given to this state or the people came through the Democratic party. It promised and gave a statehood. Utah was then and is now (if let alone) Democratic. But from the days of the "Nuggets of Truth" until the present hour some would-be Republican politician leader has insisted to the church authorities that the welfare of the Mormon people and the success of their church depended on the maintenance in power of the Republican party, and unless Utah was in harmony with the administration the church would not stand

Often Averts Insanity Due to Kidney Irregularities

Gaut, the celebrated German specialist, asserts that seven-tenths of the feeble-minded and insane are the victims of kidney diseases. He claims that it is the functions of the kidneys to strain and filter certain poisons and acids from the blood and that when they fail in this action, the poisons are retained in the system and the nerves and brain are the first to feel the effects.

Nervousness, excitability, restlessness, melancholia, pains in the back and head, neuralgia and rheumatic pains, fevers, chills, scanty urine, highly colored and acid urine, burning pains, fullness and soreness in the region of the bladder, all indicate that the kidneys are affected and weakened, needing tonic treatment.

The very best physician should be consulted at once, unless the patient fully recognizes the symptoms, in which case let the following simple, inexpensive, but reliable prescription be used for several weeks. Ask any honest druggist to mix one-half ounce fluid extract Buchu, with one ounce compound fluid balmwort and two ounces compound syrup sassafras. Then take a teaspoonful after each meal and one at retiring, drinking plenty of water, and you will be cured. This mixture makes a splendid spring tonic and blood purifier.

"in," and so would not be favored by the party of special privileges. This nefarious doctrine has been so long "hinted at," and in certain quarters (where a Democrat could not get a respectful audience) facts misinterpreted and certain worthy gentlemen unjustly influenced, until they have apparently become convinced of the truthfulness of the statements made in the church also) but will work the complete dissolution of the Republican and Democratic parties in Utah and create church and anti-church parties. In this new alignment thousands of honest, consistent Mormons will be identified with the party against Bryan, and if Taft, it cannot be neutral on other officers, but must be for the Republicans. This attitude of the News is as a Republican organ in this state.

Has Merit of Candor.
F. K. Nebeker, Logan, Democratic committeeman for Utah—The News editorial to which you refer is not deserving of the amount of consideration it is receiving. During past campaigns the Democratic party has received from the columns of the Deseret News more effective opposition than it has ever received from its open support of the Republican party. The editorial in question has the merit of candor to say the least, when it is known that its editorial department is dominated by Republican influences it appears foolish for Democrats to expect any favors. If the fate of the Democratic party of this state is depending by so small a thread as to be seriously threatened by adverse action of the Deseret News, it is well to consider then it is certainly time for the party to disband.

An Effusion, but Not Inspired.
Matthouhah L. Thomas—I can't imagine the purpose of the editorial. I think it was simply an effusion of the editor rather than an inspired announcement. Those students of the political science who do not agree with it, anyway. I do not believe it will have any great effect, even if it will take away the support of the majority in this state.

What Sjodahl Says.
S. S. Fernstrom—Mr. Sjodahl, editor of the News, to me, the purpose of the editorial was to present the Republican viewpoint. The effect will undoubtedly be to help the Republican party. But the purpose of the editorial was to effect, I want to go on record as speaking in disapproval of it. The church organ had no business printing any such editorial.

It is deplorable that our political campaigns must always begin and end by insinuating into political circles, discussions, but so long as church publications will express their preferences, so long will that condition exist, for the Republicans are always ready to take advantage of anything and everything that has the least appearance of church endorsement. I have no objection to this for this campaign that the News will allow itself to manifest any preference.

News' Foot Slipped.
C. F. Decker, mayor of Provo—I think Mr. Roosevelt has been a splendid president and that most of the things that have made him splendid have been Bryan's ideas, and Mr. Roosevelt ought to be elected president. While the News claims to be non-partisan it appears to me in this editorial it is partisan.

An Ingenious Explanation.
Mayor A. F. Brewer of Ogden said he was not anxious to get mixed up in the controversy as he did not think it was justified to get mixed up in the controversy. He said, "I suppose to be a non-political paper and I think it should remain so. The News is a partisan paper. It is probably a Taft admirer and referred to his good qualities, omitting his bad ones, if he has any, and then did not submit the article to the readers of the News. I really don't see anything the matter with the article, and can't see where it can have any effect whatever. The people are not going to vote for Taft on the strength of that article. Maybe the News will come out and say something just as nice in favor of Mr. Bryan."

A Republican Paper.
A. G. Barber, Logan, ex-state senator—I think the News editorial of June 19, under the name of "Fussy Jimmy," is the frank expression of a Republican newspaper. The preference for Taft against Roosevelt is probably Senator Smoot's way of taking shelter after his strenuous support of Teddy for a third term. As a Democrat, however, I do not care what Republicans say at this time.

Shouldn't Have Any Effect.
Judge S. W. Stewart—The News editorial of last Friday referring to Secretary Taft as a president who had "fallen" is intended to create a very favorable impression for the Republican nominee, and to create a very unfavorable impression for the office of chief executive of our nation.

To those who are in the habit of being influenced by such editorials, it is no doubt create a favorable impression for the Republican nominee. It ought not to affect the sterling Democrats of Utah who have had so many obstacles to encounter that they should be proof against such influences.

Colored Woman Pleads Not Guilty to Murder Charge.

Gertrude Reeves, colored, pleaded not guilty before Judge Armstrong yesterday to the charge of murdering her husband in the first degree and by consent of court the trial was continued until the fall term.

The specific charge is that she strangled to death her new-born babe on Feb. 23 last. She is represented by Samuel A. King. Albert Andrus, charged with assaulting a young girl, pleaded guilty and will be sentenced Wednesday morning. The case of George D. Piper, charged with tampering with a railway switch, had their cases continued until Aug. 3.

THEREUPON A GREAT SILENCE FELL UPON SCRIBES OF CITY BY DEAD SEA

And it came to pass that on the morning of the second day of the summer solstice there appeared upon the scribes of the city which is builded upon the shores of the dead sea, the representative of King Rosenfield, who is called Booth of the tribe of Hierarch and who is surnamed Kinky.

And he spake unto the scribes, saying: I have come from the room of the august comedians, even the high priests which is called the grand jury, and this day they have moved to bear testimony shall no longer write upon the tablets nor hang from the walls of the city knowledge of that which transpires within the heart of Booth the Kinky.

And it was easy to be seen that the heart of Booth the Kinky, was filled with a specially chosen word. For he revealed to the people of Zion that some of the tribe of Nephi should be under suspicion because they were called to remark not even for the space of one sun. And Booth the Kinky spake, saying: I am well.

And he spake yet further, saying: Ye who are in judgment, if ye be high court, will of a verity put thee in a vile dungeon if thy tablets are not closed and thou shalt cease not to transcribe words on papyrus and hang placards from the walls of the city.

YOUNG MAN BEGS TO BE SAVED FROM SUICIDE BECAUSE HE IS EMBEZZLER

Broken by remorse, repenting his actions before his guilt was discovered, Henry Winter, a young man employed as collector for the Western Packing company, went to the police station last night at 11 o'clock and asked Special Detective George Sheets to arrest him for embezzling from his employers. The total shortage in his accounts is probably not more than $15.

Winter went into the office of the desk sergeant at 11 o'clock last night and asked permission to speak with Detective Sheets. As he talked to the detective, Winter's voice trembled. He appeared weak and nervous and declared that he was afraid he had attempted suicide. "For nights," declared the young man, "I have not slept from thinking about my crime. I worry all day long about it."

I have tried in every way possible to raise the money I took from my employers, but I could not do it. If you don't lock me up in jail I am afraid I shall commit suicide."

He told Sheets that he had taken in all about $15 from his employers, that it was collected from the employees of the company in from which the money was taken. He said that he had a wife and three children living at 322 North Sixth West street. The detective asked him if he did not want to go to his employers, confess his shortage and ask to be allowed to work for the company until he had made up his shortage. Winter said that he was afraid to trust himself, lest he might commit suicide and begged to be locked up. The detective then locked him up in jail and notified his wife and his employers of the arrest.

MILITIA BEING STRENGTHENED FOR PARTICIPATION IN ARMY MANEUVERS
Utah's national guard is going to rub shoulders with the soldiers of the regular army, and have a taste of the sunny side of real war during the August maneuvers at Crow Creek, near Cheyenne.

It is to be a formidable gathering on the plains of Wyoming. In addition to the troops from the posts of the regular army in western Wyoming, there will be militia from all the western states from the Mississippi river to the Pacific coast. As each state is represented, there is no doubt that the gathering will be a busy and active in scores of armories.

JERRY CHORN DISMISSED
Colored Jockey Who Dangerously Wounded Another Negro Escapes Prosecution.

Jerry Chorn, the colored jockey, who shot and dangerously wounded Henry Staten, another negro, in the saloon of "Candy Bill" McKenzie, a Commercial street negro, was dismissed by Judge Diehl in police court yesterday morning. Staten, who of necessity was must hold his subpoena to appear as a witness at the preliminary hearing and failed to appear. It is understood that Staten made an arrangement with friends of Chorn whereby he was to disappear before the hearing. The hearing of the case was held times in an effort made to locate Staten. It has been learned definitely that he has left the state and the county attorney believes that any attempt to prosecute the case would prove useless.

STABBED IN THE FACE.
John Monbredi Receives Knife Wound in Saloon Brawl.

In a fight in a saloon at 337 South West Temple street yesterday afternoon John Monbredi, an Italian, was stabbed in the face by N. Pene. The wounds of the injured man were dressed at the emergency hospital at the police station by Police Surgeon Samuel G. Paul. His injuries were not serious. Pene was arrested by Sergeant Henry K. Johnston in the saloon and is now being held on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon.

And then it came to pass that Johnnie of the tribe of Burke, who had been urged by the ruler of men and destined to make written words profuse in their abundance, spake, saying: We have heard that which thou hast said, and we are most eager to abide.

And all the scribes of the city which is builded upon the shores of the dead sea likewise closed their tablets and placed their stylus in their bags, for they were not to write. For the most of them, among them, possessed of an all consuming desire to call down upon their heads the wrath of him who sits in judgment, not even for the space of one sun.

And Booth of the tribe of Hierarch, who is surnamed Kinky saw that it was well, and the scribes of the city which is builded upon the shores of the dead sea saw that it was well also, and offered up prayers that it was not worse.

COURT NOTES.
The Fitzgerald Bros. Land company has brought suit against the Irrigated Lands company for $2,000, alleged to be due on the sale of land.

Charles C. Parsons, jr., was yesterday named as administrator of the estate of R. F. Moser, who died May 11 and left an estate of $4,000.

The $3,000 damage suit brought by J. W. Cromence against the Salt Lake Route and the Oregon Short Line for the death of his 12-year-old son, who was hit by an engine on May 22, 1907, was placed on trial before Judge Ritchie in the district court yesterday.

Green Apples
A green apple must be cooked before you can safely eat it. Do you know why? It is because of the starch. Starch, unless thoroughly cooked, isn't digestible. It upsets the stomach and bowels.

As the apple ripens, the starch changes to dextrine—digests itself. Then it is safe. Much of the starch that you eat, like the starch in green apples, isn't sufficiently cooked. And wheat is largely starch.

That is why bread, unless toasted, isn't good for dyspeptics. The inside of the loaf never gets half enough heat. The granules of the starch are not separated, so the digestive juices can get to them.

That is the reason for Mapi-Flake. Our wheat is steam-cooked for six hours. Think of that! Yet even that is insufficient. Then we flake it—crush each separate berry to the thinness of paper. Then we toast it, for 30 minutes, in ovens heated to 400 degrees. The flake is so thin that every atom of starch gets the full force of that heat.

That is why Mapi-Flake is the best food in the world. It is all food. Every atom is available nourishment.

Mapi-Flake is also the most delicious food, because we cook the wheat in pure Maple Syrup. No other flavor, especially with children, can compare with that.

There are other flaked foods—both corn and wheat—prepared in one-fourth the time spent on ours. They sell for 10 cents per package. But food should be measured, not by volume, but by nourishment. And that depends on the process. Mapi-Flake at 15 cents is the cheapest food by far.
